

A Women's Song - SING IT!!!

At first I was afraid, I was petrified.
When you said you had 10 inches, Lord I almost died!
But I'd spent so many years just waiting for a man that long,
That I grew strong, And I knew that I could take you on.
But there you are, Another lie,
I was ready for a Big Mac and you've brought me a French Fry!
I should have known that it was bullshlt, just a sad pathetic dream,
Should have known there was no Anaconda lurking in those jeans!
Go on now go, walk out the door,
Don't you promise me 10 inches, then turn up with only 4!
Weren't you a brat to think I wouldn't find you out!?
Don't you know we're only joking when we say size don't count??!!

[Chorus]

I will survive! I will survive!
Cuz as long as I have batteries,
My sex life's gonna thrive!
I will always have good sex, with a handful of latex!
I will survive! I will survive!.. Hey! Hey!

[Verse]

It took all my self control not to laugh out loud, When I saw your Little wiener standing tall and proud!
But to hell with all your egos and to hell with all your needs,
Now I'm saving all my loving for a cordless multi speed!

[Chorus]

I will survive! I will survive!
Cuz as long as I have batteries,
My sex life's gonna thrive!
I will always have good sex, with a handful of latex!
I will survive! I will survive! ... Hey! Hey!
