

Mobile Phones:

Some of you know that one of my pet peeves is the almost constant use of cell phones by people while driving or shopping, dining etc.

Well, it has gone beyond even that now with them using them at the beach. This goes beyond being inconsiderate, in my opinion.

While on the beach recently, I had to just sit there and listen to this woman for two full hours while she talked on her cell phone and pranced back forth in front of me. I couldn't concentrate on my book.

How rude can she be? If you know her, please tell her to be considerate of others!

VERY VERY IRRITATING
