

The Blonde and the TV

A blonde walked into an electrical store

She was looking to buy a TV

So she asked the assistant if she could purchase the one on the top shelf

The assistant replied "I'm sorry we don't serve blondes."

The blonde left the shop

She decided to dye her hair and return the following day as a brunette.

Again she went into the store and asked if she could buy the TV on the top shelf

Once again the assistant replied "I'm sorry we don't serve blondes"

Determined that she was going to have this TV she had seen, she once again dyed her Hair this time as a red head and returned the following day, again she entered the store

Again she asked the assistant if she could buy the TV on the top shelf, and again the Assistant replied "I'm sorry we don't serve blondes"

This time the blonde replied "How do you know that I'm blonde my hair is red" "and why can't I buy that TV"!!!!

The assistant calmly turned to face the lady and said "I'm sorry lady" "but that TV you're after is a microwave"
